

ASU Master Class

Entrepreneurial mindset: your competitive advantage as a Technology Innovator

Wednesday

March 22, 2023

9 a.m. MST (UTC -7)

Free online class

Presenter

Brent Sebold is a popular lecturer, professor and director of Entrepreneurship + Innovation at the Arizona State University Ira A. Fulton Schools of Engineering.

Do you dream of inventing your own product or starting your own business?

Did you know that changing the way you think can help you be more successful?

What is “entrepreneurial thinking” and how does it work?

Join the next Arizona State University Master Class to learn more about the “Seven C’s” of entrepreneurial thinking and how you can connect the Seven C’s to innovation within your future career!

The ASU Master Class online lecture series highlights the latest research-based innovations impacting our world today, and features researchers, professors and subject-matter experts from around Arizona State University.

Click to register

ASU Arizona State University